Dear Members of the Board,

Re: Disciplinary complaint against Judge Kimberly A. Moore re. her conduct in Leader Tech v. Facebook, Case No. 2011-1366 (Fed. Cir.)

I regret but feel compelled to bring the conduct of Judge Kimberly A. Moore to your attention. I believe that her conduct in Leader Tech v. Facebook, Case No. 2011-1366 (Fed. Cir.) ("Leader v. Facebook") has been unethical and does not instill the confidence of the public in the administration of justice.

Frankly, my concern is that this complaint will be swept under the carpet and not be fully investigated. Pundits label "self-policing" of white collar misconduct in the legal profession as largely ineffective since attorneys are disciplining each other and feel the natural sympathy of "there but by the grace of God go I." Therefore, I challenge this Board to include a majority of laypeople in evaluating this complaint. This will inject a modicum of objectivity and third party accountability into a process that otherwise looks to the average person as nothing more than attorney whitewashing.

My other concern is that if I do not mention a particular matter in this letter, the Board will then not investigate additional matters that may arise from its investigation. Therefore, I respectfully ask that you not limit your investigation to only the matters I raise herein, but rather to all matters that arise from the investigation, including the matters I raise below.

The following are my complaints against Judge Moore:

1. Judge Moore ostensibly signed and/or authorized at least two Orders regarding my Motions that she had not even seen or reviewed, according to Federal Court Clerk of Court staffer, Valerie White on Aug. 7, 2012. Worse, the Jul. 11, 2012 Order was entered only several hour after my time-stamped motion was received at the court. According to Ms. White, the judges would not have had time to receive and consider my motion.ⁱ See Orders, Jul. 11, 2012ⁱⁱ and Jul. 24, 2012,ⁱⁱⁱ Leader Tech v. Facebook, Case No. 2011-1366 (Fed. Cir.). Further, Ms. White also said that the court had no record of receiving any of my three motions, which is unconscionable.

2. Judge Moore did not disclose her prior associations with a person likely be a key Leader witness, Professor James P. Chandler. This association was likely to inject bias into the proceedings and should have been grounds for disqualification or at least a request for waiver.^{iv} Professor Chandler was a professor of law at George Washington University and likely quite known to the whole court; and certainly well-known at least to Chief Judge Rader who was his student. It is also likely that undisclosed differences exist with various members of the court and Professor Chandler since the professor was instrumental in the passage of the Federal Trade Secrets Act and the Economic Espionage Act in 1996. Indeed, Professor Chandler worked closely with the Senate Judiciary Committee under Chairman Oren Hatch. Judge Rader was employed by Senator Hatch for eight years. The conflict is evident.^v

3. Judge Moore did not disclose her and the Federal Circuit's prior associations with various Facebook attorneys, as I proved in my renewed motion. These associations were likely to inject bias into the proceedings and should have been grounds for disqualification or at least a request for waiver.^{vi}

4. Judge Moore did not disclose her holdings in Facebook, or whether or not her direct relationships to the third degree held or purchased stock in Facebook during the pendency of the Leader v. Facebook proceedings. Since Facebook's highly publicized initial public offering occurred during the pendency of the court's decision, this matter must certainly be material and would inject bias. Given the fact that at least one other judge on the panel, Judge Lourie, was known to acquire Facebook stock during the pendency of this case, a heightened level of disclosure is only reasonable and would have avoided the appearance of impropriety.^{vii}

5. Judge Moore authorized public disclosure of key court decisions timed to Facebook media needs regarding its IPO in what the average person on the street can only consider Facebook bias. The announcement of the decision was timed on the same day as the beginning of the Facebook Road Show in New York on May 8, 2012, and the announcement of the denial of Leader petition for rehearing was timed and unexpectedly announced first by Fox Business interviewer Shibani Joshi during a nationally televised interview of Leader's Chairman Michael McKibben on July 16, 2012.^{viii}

6. Judge Moore violated Leader Technologies' due process rights under The Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments of the U.S. Constitution. Specifically, Judge Moore unilaterally converted a "clear and convincing evidence" appeal into a different

“substantial evidence” argument, then sporadically dipped into the cold record for evidence to support her new argument, even digging out evidence not put before the jury, then ruled on her newly-minted argument. These actions were a manifest injustice since (a) the Federal Circuit is not a trial court, and (b) if the Federal Circuit is going to take on the role of a trial court by evaluating new evidence, then it is duty-bound to permit a full briefing by the parties. Leader was never permitted to confront its accuser, which in this case was the Federal Circuit itself.

The Federal Circuit is an appeals court designed to correct mistakes of law, not retry cases prejudicially in favor of their friends and well-funded litigants with whom they curry favor. Therefore, the Judge Moore usurped the proper administration of justice in her professional actions, in breach of her professional licenses to practice law.

Judge Moore essentially accused Leader Technologies of things that were not even tried in the lower court, without giving Leader their due process rights to confront, in this case, their Federal Circuit accusers. Nothing in Judge Moore’s professional oath permits such a usurpation of the legal process.

7. Judge Moore ignored the substance of my motions which included firm evidence of matters that required serious review instead of the cursory denials they received. For example, I provided clear proofs of substantial conflicts of interest among the Clerk and judges, substantial new evidence of Facebook’s withholding of key evidence in this case, and egregious oversights of law that cannot possibly pass for judicial discretion.^{ix}

8. Judge Moore’s court failed to provide timely FOIA information which asked that the court disclose its conflicts checking process in general, and specifically what conflicts checking occurred prior to and during the pendency of Leader v. Facebook.

9. Judge Moore abused her discretion by denying motions without providing a justifying reason. The U.S. Supreme Court in Foman v. Davis, 371 US 178 (1962) at 182 states: “outright refusal to grant the leave without any justifying reason appearing for the denial is not an exercise of discretion; it is merely abuse of that discretion and inconsistent with the spirit of the Federal Rules.”

10. The public record shows the possibility of undue influence over the proceeding by political and foreign influences. More specifically, at least Judges Lourie and Moore acquired Facebook stock through well-publicized transactions involving the very substantial involvement of investors in Facebook (including the closely related companies Zynga and Groupon) with close ties to the current U.S. administration and to the Russian government (“Facebook investor DST comes with ties to Alisher Usmanov

and the Kremlin – Three Goldman Sachs bankers, Alexander Tamas, Verdi Israelian and John Lindfors joined DST over the past three years.” The Guardian, Jan. 4, 2011).^x

For the sake of economy, I will not attach hard copies of the supporting documents, but will provide links to the downloadable documents online. Should the Board wish to have hard copy print outs of the cited documents, I will provide them upon request.

Given the already public nature of this case, and the fact that I am already in contact with members of the U.S. legislature, I will be providing copies of this complaint to members of the House and Senate Judiciary Committees, among others. In this spirit, I would request that you make the results of your investigation publicly available.

Respectfully yours,
