What's Taught in Public Schools Isn't Within Grand Jury Province, Foreman Says

"We do not believe that it is within the province of the county grand jury to determine what is taught in the public schools."

This was the reaction yesterday of L. Nathaniel Fitts, grand jury foreman, after consideration of two letters attacking sex education in the secondary schools.

The matter came up with receipt of a letter from Miss Lillian Scott Troy, 452 N Los Robles Ave., Pasadena, a correspondent for a San Francisco religious publication.

Complaint Made

Miss Troy complained concerning sex education in the Los Angeles schools, and referred to an earlier letter to the grand jury by Mrs. Katherine Alexander, 4230 W Ave. 40, on the same subject. Miss Troy said they had seen an examination paper given a 14-year-old student discussing aspects of the subject.

Fitts said that the Alexander letter had been referred to the curriculum section of the Board of Education and that the Troy letter will be routed likewise.

large busses. This figure, like the total contract figure, is subject to revision downward by the board of experts. Tanner will take over the service Nov. 13.

Bids on 104 other busses of 12 to 66-passenger capacity will be taken next week. Later, bids will be taken on 130 more.

Burke and the school officials who submitted the original proposals to 32 potential bidders were praised by other School Board members, J. Paul Elliott, Olin E. Darby, Arthur F. Gardner and Mrs. Chester Stafford. All voted for the Tanner bid. Landier has consented to cancellation of its contract.

Election Scheduled

The board will elect a successor to Mrs. Eleanor B. Allen, resigned board member, at 4:45 p.m. tomorrow.

Burke proposed that nominations be made at an open meeting, with no caucus or straw vote beforehand.
